Seeds in the Middle, named by 4th graders in Crown Heights, partners with schools - parents, educators, students - and the community to inspire and empower all to get healthy. We believe kids must have access to nutritious food, fitness, arts, and more. We teach how to grow edible gardens, create a student-run Hip2B Healthy Market selling nutritious snacks for less than junk food at bodegas, cook healthy with master chefs, and how to get fit! Please buy and sell raffles to support us! We run soccer and sports programs & the Crown Heights Farmers Market at Hamilton Metz Field (Albany/Lefferts Park) and Brower Park. Families are running, doing zumba & dancing at P.S. 221. Kids are ballroom dancing, singing with the Metropolitan Opera, and more. Folks: please sell at churches, work, anywhere you know.
